4. Before the chapter winner competes in the state contest, a copy of the oration, a photograph and biographical sketch of the entrant, and the completed Form B should be mailed to the state chairman following the chapter contest. Statement of Commitment:

This form is used to secure the commitment that the chapter-winning contestant will move forward and compete in the Texas Regional, State Contest, and the National SAR contest. We had an occasion where a chapter contestant had changed their mind after winning due to more attractive events. This is unfair to the follow-up second place contestant.

“We welcome you, your family, and your teacher to be part of the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) Rumbaugh Oration Contest. Through this competition, the SAR has provided a program by which students can enter an Oratorical Contest for the benefit of obtaining scholarship awards. The event begins at the Chapter (local) level and will evolve through a Regional Contest, a State Contest, and a final contest at the National Level.

In order to conduct a contest of this type, it is necessary for the participant to commit to and be able to follow through with the chapter, the regional, the state, and eventually participation at the National level. We ask that you recognize a posture of fairness in accepting the responsibility of this commitment. We asked that you consider the rights of the other contestants who are entering the contest with the anticipation of being able to win. A last minute withdrawal is not fair to the other contestants, the local chapter, or to the Texas SAR. Should the winning contestant withdraw for any reason from the competition, any awards or prizes received are required to be returned.”
